

Diesel generating sets worldwide

TUTT BRYANT POWER GENERATION

Tutt Bryant is excited to announce our National Agreement with AJ Power, a leading generator manufacturer out of the UK.

Chris Leahy, Tutt Bryant Equipment's National Power Generation Manager explains: "AJ Power manufacture generators from 10kVA through to bespoke 3.6MVA containerised sets, with installation and service options available through the National Tutt Bryant team"

With 23 branches and emergency field service support on our 1300 658 888 number, Tutt Bryant have fully equipped service centres to provide workshop maintenance, servicing repairs or fast infield support from each of our Capital city locations.

Founded in 2003, AJ Power is based in a modern facility in Craigavon, Northern Ireland, United Kingdom. The company specialises in the volume manufacture and design of diesel generating sets with a management team who have over 40 years' experience in the industry. Since its inception, the company has maintained continuous and remarkable growth and its generators are now in use in over 85 countries around the world.

Commenting on the new partnership Andy Mackey, Director of Sales and Marketing at AJ Power said, "This new partnership enables AJ Power to continue to build upon the success we have in the Australian region. We look forward to working with the Tutt Bryant team to provide power solutions to meet the demands of their diverse customer base across Australia."

Tutt Bryant provides Engineering support to deliver on your feasibility studies and conceptual designs. Working in partnership, before we commence, our Project Managers will review FEED and Detailed Design documentation, run Risk Workshops and consult with site authorities. Leveraging from our experience, our goal is to provide a solution which enhances installation and operational efficiencies, utilising the latest technology, all whilst reducing the project risk profile and avoiding over engineering

Chris Leahy
National Power Generation Manager
0408 359 611
Chris.leahy@tuttbryant.com.au

